MORGAN'S BILIA
[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRINSS—A M.]
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The Senate Committee on Tethmian Canal today engaged in a general discussion of the Nicaragua Canal Bill, which was, introduced by Senator Morgan, but adjourned without action because of the absence of Senator Hanna. The disposition of the committee is to report the bill at an early date, although it is not expected that action will be

MOVE TO REMOVE MORGAN.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Movement is on foot to remove Senator Morgan of Alabama as chairman of the Committee on Interoceanic Canals. The project was broached today at a meeting of the committee. It was urged that Morgan, who is a Democrat, should give gan, who is a Democrat, should give way to a Republican.

Great indignation was expressed by several Republicans at the suggestion.
They hold that it would be unparal-leled injustice to remove Morgan, now that all indications point to the con-struction of the isthmian waterway just at the time he is about success

Just at the time he is about successfully to conclude the contest of a lifetime for an interoceanic canal and permit some Republican to win the glory of a victory.

Morgan is the only Democrat in the Senate who is serving as chairman of a Republican committee. He has at times felt the delicacy of his position and has intimated his willingness to withdraw, but all such intimations have been promptly negatived by the Republicans. Senators Hanna, Elkins and other powerful Republicans are members of the committee, and it is believed that their influence will be sufficient to prevent Morgan's removal at this time.

"SOP TO THE POWERS."

"SOP TO THE POWERS."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] The new Hay-Pauncefote treaty became public this afternoon, although the seal of secrecy has not been formally removed by the Senate. The document slipped out in some mysterious manner, and many Senters and treatment of the secretary and the secretary to the secretary the secretary to the secretary the sec ators are indignant to think that an-other cherished secret has attained publicity without their knowledge or consent.

Since the reading of the treaty in executive session yesterday, apprehension has arisen among Republican Senators that opposition may develop. This may be serious, as a two-thirds vote is necessary for ratification. It is understood the objection is to the clause applying the Suez-canal rules providing for neutralization to the Nicaragua Canal. This may be construed as a sop to the maritime powers of Europe. Jamaican treaty, and so a new treaty has been made, extending the time for the exchange of ratifications to last through the present session of Congress. This extension was made at the request of Lord Pauncefote, and it does not in the slightest add to the likelihood of the ratification of the Jamaican treaty, but merely extends the time within which it might be ratified.

The Jamaican treaty has been discussed but little since Congress convened. Owing to a paragraph in the President's message calling attention to it and other treaties, there prohably will be consideration of it by the Sanate Foreign Relations Committee. But it is confidently predicted that the treaty will never be reported from that committee, and consequently it will never come before the Senate.

Dec. 5.—SENATE.—The announcement that Senator Mo-Comas would inaugurate the discussion on the suppression of anarchy and anarchists filled the Senate galleries today with a goodly number of spectators. Before the routine business was taken up. Mr. Hale of Maine secured the adoption of a resolution that, when the Senate adjourns today, it be until next Monday. The heavy influx of petitions, bills, etc., continued, much time being taken up in their formal reception.

It was humiliating, he said, to consider the impotency of our Federal laws to punish this fearful crime. Mr. McComas further urged the exclusion and deportation of anarchists, the amendment of the immigration and nationalization laws, and the negotiations of treaties with foreign powers permitting the extradition of those charged with anarchistic offenses. In the course of his speech the Senator argued that international comity called for action on our part to suppress the origin of plots in this country against foreign rulers.

Mr. McComas was accorded close attention throughout his remarks. At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts took the floor animal made comments upon anarchism and anarchists. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Commis-WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones today introduced to President Roosevelt a delegation of Ute Indians, who were anxious to meet the "Great Father."

The President shook hands very cordially with each of the Indians. One of the Indians understood English. On being informed of this fact, the President turned to him and said: "Tell your brothers that I had fifty Indians in my regiment during the war with Spain, and they made fine soldiers."

The Indians appeared to be very much pleased when this message was conveyed to them.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Much interest has been excited among officials here over the seisure of two cars of the Southern Pacific pay train at Nogales, Ariz., today, by the United States customs authorities. Brief advices received said that two or three dozen boxes of cigars had been found on the train which, it was alleged, the crew were trying to smuggle into this country. It is assumed that the train was bound for the Pacific Coast from some point trying to smuggle into this country. It is assumed that the train was bound for the Pacific Coast from some point in Sonora, Mex. When it reached Nogales, official reports show that it was ordered held up until instructions could be received from Washington.

At first, Secretary Gage was inclined to believe that the paymaster or other employes in charge of the train should be arrested, and then the train could proceed to its destination. Later, however, the Secretary was convinced that the cars on which the cigars were found must be seized under the law. While no similar case can be recalled, it is maintained that any vehicle, not excluding railway conveyances, is subject to seizure when employed for such purposes.

The vigor, decision and resoluteness of President McKinley were beautifully relieved by his moderation in victory and his chivalrous treatment of the prisoners of war. They were made the guests of the nation and sent to their homes in vessels under their own flag. His only thought regarding the peoples of the islands ceded by Spain was doing good toward them and giving them the management of their local affairs just as fast as they were prepared for it. The results speak of his wisdom. Cuba, disenthralied and being set on her feet as an independent nation at the cost of many lives and many tens of millions of money, is preparing to act for herself. Porto Rico is very prosperous. The Philippines are getting schools and roads and learning local self-government. They came under the flag by treaty as Iowa geople when they have developed as far. The nation has prospered beyond all precedent: every industry is thriving. The balance of trade is heavily in our favor, our tressury has more money than any nation ever possessed. Our 2-per-cent, bonds are at a premium, our merchants find markets in every clime, our working men are well paid and all employed: property values appreciate steadily, and the nation has reached a place never reached before. The soul of reciprocity as we have it from these authorities, is arranging for buying things from certain countries that we do not produce at home, and selling to them what they require and cannot produce. This is a favorable arrangement to both sides. No party authority has ever suggested reciprocity at the expense of any of our home industries. That would be to secure trade abroad at the expense of development at home. We may have interests that would like to thrive upon the decay of others, but they have no warrant for their tendencies from the exponents of the Republican party, whether they be individuals in position to speak for the party, or delegate conventions intrusted with its future policies.

Reciprocity may become the auxiliary of protection by opening markets for our surplus products of field and factory in countries where we buy what we do not produce, or where we buy much more than we sell, or it may become the assassin of our protective policy by admitting to our markets what we do produce that needs protection, for the purpose of getting new markets for some of our products that no longer require any favors. We sold in 1990 $844,000,000 worth of agricultural products, and bought $420,000,000 worth of agricultural products, in round numucts, and bought $420,000,000 worth of agricultural products, in round numbers. Among other things, we bought sugar, fine tobacco, rice, tea, fruits, vegetables, and so forth, that are being produced in our own country in such increasing quantities as to give assurance of the fact that in reasonable time the home supply will equal the home demand; reciprocity that would withdraw protection in whole or in part from these and kindred industries would play the assassin and detach everybody engaged in their production from all interest in protection for anything else.

When within a few years, we keep at home half of the $420,000,000 paid for agricultural products, our home markets will have been strengthened more than all the extension that can be secured outside of our jurisdiction. Nothing so contributes to the growth of any one individual industry as general prosperity. The people of the States of the Mississippi Valley, where grains and meats abound, are vitally interested in the prosperity of manufacturing New England, of the cotton, sugar and rice and tobacco States of the South and of the many grazing and fruit-growing States of the mountains and the Pacific Coast; and all these are vitally interested in the prosperity of the Mississippi Valley.

Where new industries necessary to and all employed; property values appreciate steadily, and the nation has reached a place never reached before. The Republican convention in 1900 moninated for Vice-President the next most popular man to President McKinley, in the United States. The government in his hands will make the progress along all lines expected by the people.

Reciprocity has been seriously thought of by our public men since the late President McKinley was chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives. It was entertained favorably by him and others as a method by which our nation could secure trade advantages in those confiries that sold to us heavily of things we do not produce, and were under no binding obligation to buy from us what we desire to sell, but which they could buy as well elsewhere. It was never entertained as an expedient by which trade could be extended to the advantage of some of our industries at the expense of others. It would have had scant welcome in any Republican convention had it been proclaimed as a measure by which men industries that gave promise of supplying the home demand should be sacrificed in the interests of strong industries that and long enjoyed the partiality of the American people.

Reciprocity was defined in the Republican National Convention of 1900 as follows: "We favor the associated policy of reciprocity, so directed as to open our markets on favorable terms procity treaty in order to continue the sale of our exports to that country. The country with which we have the next most extensive dealings is Germany. The balance of trade in our favor with Germany is $37,275,000, but germany buys more cotton and breadstuffs from us than the balance of trade between the two countries. It is interesting to note what is the condition of our trade with those countries. We sell to Germany, including cotton and breadstuffs, $134,000,000 worth of agricultural goods, and we buy from her $25,649,000 worth. The large filem in the agricultural including cotton and breadstuffs, is is meat products. When we come to consider our trade with that country, our non-agricultural exports to Germany, after cotton and breadstuffs, is meat products. When we come to consider our trade with that country, our non-agricultural exports from that country, consisting of their face of the constitution of their face of the constitution of the constitution of their face of the constitution of the part of that people with regard to our purchases of their non-agricultural exports to Germany would be a very small affair, and the balance of trade would be heavily against us. Our raw material is vital to her increase of domestic exports over imports in $3,95,000, but we sell to her $27,776,000 worth of ray cotton, something she must have or stop manufacturing cotton. Our total agricultural exports to Fance are $45,56,000, engage the sell of the self of the se people, and so increase our home market.

Our manufacturers are at an advantage compared with foreign manufacturers, because of the abundance and cheapness of food products here. Our grain products are so cheap, comparatively, that they go everywhere. Corn for several years has been cheap, and has been in demand. It is higher priced now, but still cheap to Europeans. 'Our wheat and flour have been comparatively cheap. Growers of horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry, with dairymen, sell no grain and have most profit. Our grains will not be refused while they are so low in price. Conditions in our country are changing. Our population is rapidly increasing, while new lands on which to grow grains are not increasing. It is within out power to increase the grain yields of our acres by hybridising, selection and better farming. But the age of very cheap grains is passing, not to return while present conditions are maintained.

Our meats, poultry and dairy products and better formulations and dairy products and the present conditions are maintained.

return while present conditions are maintained.

Our meats, poultry and dairy products are being gradually excluded from the countries of continental Europe, but our home market needs more, as population increases, and our meat supply is not keeping pace with the population. The land-owning classes are stronger in those countries than the merchants, mechanics and working people. There is a struggle among nations at the present time for the commerce of the world, and abundance of cheap food is a prime necessity in this race. The nation that excludes cheap foodstriffs will fall behind in the contest. The heavy immigration to our shores is a continual reminder that the people come for better wages, food, clothing, education and general elevation in the scale of life.

The growth of our country in so many directions justifies the conclusion that we are developing toward a condition of completeness as a world's not into a direction for completeness as a world's not into a direction for completeness as a world's not all the people come for better wages, food, clothing, education and general elevation in the scale of life.

lel of north latitude, it will be entirely practicable within the lives of children now at school to produce the other half in those islands under our own flag. With regard to trade with outside peoples, it is heavy now, and will continue to be so. We are sending factory goods to the localities from which we formerly bought them. The intelligence and genius of our people, our abundant raw material, our cheap transportation and cheap food, will continue to enable our manufacturers to sell abroad. Then the ability of our people to travel and buy objects of fancy and things produced by very cheap labor will bring imports from foreign countries, but our aim should be always to work toward independence of foreign producers as far as practicable, and no public policy should ever be thought of that looks to the destruction or crippling of any American industry.

The Department of Agriculture is doing something to extend the markets abroad for American products. We are handicapped everywhere for want of ships carrying our flag. There is much we have to sell that would find favor in foreign markets if timely transportation on the sea could be depended upon. Much of our exports go to distributing nations before being shipped to final destination, when they are credited to the carrying nation and the consumer is not aware of their origin. It would be of great value to our people if we dealt directly with consumers, as they would look to the source of supply instead of depending upon the carrier. Our future markets for increasing exports should include the newer and more developing countries that have no carrying merchantmen of their wan, and undoubtedly would had we a merchant marine to do our carrying.

tries that have no carrying merchantmen of their yaw, and undoubtedly would had we a merchant marine to do our carrying.

The Department of Agriculture is active with regard to industries that affect the people of the Mississippi Valley. We are experienting with corn in cooperation with experiment stations and individuals. You have the best corn crops in the world, but foreign demands for peculiar varieties require our attention. We are hybridising and selecting for the purpose of establishing a variety peculiarly needed by hominy manufacturers. Italy demands a variety to make "Polenta" meal. We have imported Polenta varieties grown for making that article in foreign countries, and are testing them. We will give the Italian what he wants in this regard very soon.

We are cooperating in wheat improvement by breeding and selection. Heavier yffds are the result. We have been importing hardy winter wheats from Russia and distributing them through lows. Kansas, Nebraska and other States of the Mississippi Valley. These varieties have proved so valuable that the people of those States have imported over 15,000 bushels of Crimson wheat for seed during the past year. We are giving special attention to the introduction of macaroni wheats that thrive best in the semi-arid parts of our country. We have sent them to the western parts of the Dakotas. Nebraska and Kansas, where they promise well. Our efforts in this country to make macaroni from bread wheats have not been successful. We have been importing fifteen million pounds of macaroni annually at a cost of about $8,000,000, which will not be necessary much longer. We can add from 60,000,000 to 75,000,000 bushels annually to our wheat crop by giving attention to these varieties that are witable to certain localities of the

that this is a mistake; American seed is much superior.

We are looking abroad for new markets for our fruits and dairy products, both in Europe and Asia, and we are finding them. We are studying the shipping, storing, packing, refrigerating and selling of fruits and dairy preducts We are arranging to help the sale of our domestic breeding animals in the countries to the south of rs, we have the health est and best-bred stock to be found. We are studying forace crops that may be used in our system of diversification with considerable success. Many promising varieties of grasses and legumes from foreign lands are under trial, prenaratory to distribution. The department is now in close touch with the producers of all sections of the United States.

THE OIL INDUSTRY. NEW PLAN TO POOL KERN OIL F KERN OIL FAVORED.

PROMOTERS MEETING WITH MUCH ENCOURAGEMENT.

National Refinery Going Up-Talk of Another Plant for Kern River Field-Pipe Lines from Sunset Railway to

The new proposition to combine the producers of the Kern River field is attracting considerable attention, and its projectors seem to feel confident of success. success, as already they have met with substantial encouragement. The plan of pooling the product, rather than the properties, seems to appeal more fa-vorably to the business judgment of many managers than any scheme yet advanced.

The new movement is banking on the general sentiment in favor of an association, and on the alleged partial failure of the Associated Oil Company, which has so far only secured a fraction of the approved territory. The fact that the margin of this latter attempt is wider than the body leaves the promoters of the new consolidation an extensive field. They propose to apply the principles upon which the Fresno Raisin Association was formed, contracting the oil of the members for a term of ten years. The fundamental idea is to limit production, controlling it to such an extent that it will not outrun the natural demand and swamp the market.

It is believed that the northern producers will take more kindly to consolidation than local well owners.

NATIONAL REFINERY. The new movement is banking on NATIONAL REFINERY.

The oil-refining plant now being built at Rodeo, near San Francisco, by, the National Oil Refining Company will be in shape to handle the product of the Boston companies by February I. It is estimated that, barring delays, all the machinery will be in place on that date and everything ready. The capscity of the plant will be 1000 barrels daily, and if the occasion demands the plant can be enlarged.

The Boston companies include some of the largest producers in the Sunset field, and the new refinery is really backed by that consolidation. Several months ago they decided to build a refinery, but owing to delays in receiving machinery work was commenced only a short time ago. A pier has been constructed, the buildings for the plant are now being erected and the machinery now on the way from the East.

PIPE LINES INTO MIDWAY. PIFE LINES INTO MIDWAY.

BAKERSTELD, Dec. 5.—(From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] Producers in the Upper Sunset and the Midway fields are actively engaged in the work of securing a pipe line to connect their districts with the new railroad, and they announce that they have virtually succeeded in their efforts. Without a vipe line or a branch railroad, these rich properties are absolutely off the map, the expense of hauling oil to a point of transportation being in excess of its market value. W. B. Berry of the El Dorado states that he and his associates who early secured the land upon which the California Standard. Treadwell, Twenty, Giant and El Dorado companies are situated, will be ready to pay out within a week, at the stroulated prices, varying from $150 to $150 an acre. The sum required for the purpose comes entirely from the sales of oil produced on the properties.

MEMORY FOOD. A Case Where Memory Was Strengthe by Grape-Nuts

Food that will actually help the memory as well as agree perfectly with a delicate stomach is worth knowing of.

A good wife out in Alta, lowa, who did not know which way to turn to get food that would agree with her husband who was left in a weakened condition after a serious illness and could scarcely retain any food in his stomach, was one day induced to try him on Grape-Nuts, the famous ready-cooked breakfast food, and from the first he began to improve rapidly. In three months he had gained 30 pounds. She says that his atomach has recovered so completely that he can now eat any kind of food.

She mentions the boy of an intimate ac-

I know that Grape-Nuts will do more for weak stomachs than any medicine. The claim that it will build up and strengthen the brain has been proven to my certain knowledge. Sister, who writes for the press, and is compelled to memorize a great deal, has been using Grape-Nuts and says she is surprised at the result. There is a marked improvement in her memory and the brain works more perfectly and with better results.

Queenan Beats Case.

SEATTLE (Wash.) Dec. 5.—Perry Queenan of Milwaukee tonight knocked out Dick Case of this city in the eleventh round. Queenan had the better of it from the start. In the tenth round he sent Case to the floor twice, and in the first part of the eleventh he again knocked Case down, the latter taking nine seconds. In the latter part of the round, a left to the jaw, followed by another and a right also to the jaw, put the Seattle man out.

BROADWAY THEATER DEAL COMPLETED

T HE sale of the Mesmer property on Broadway to John A. Mason by the administrator of the estate of the late Louis Mesmer, has been con the late Louis Mesmer, has been con-firmed by the Probate Court, and there is now seemingly no obstacle in the way of the purchaser's plan to build a magnificent office block and theater on the coveted site, which is Hunter. Five thousand dollars was paid down to bind the bargain some weeks ago. An order from the court was necessary to authorise the transfer. This was made by Judge Shaw yesterday, and the remainder of the purchase price, $75,000, making a total consideration of $80,000, was then paid to the Title Insurance and Trust Company to be turned over to the administrator of the estate, Joseph Mesmer, as soon as the deed is ready. The administrator will use the money in liquidating claims against the estate, as indicated by Judge Shaw, who said, in making the order:

"It is necessary and for the best, interests of the said estate that said sale should be made, for the purpose of paying off the indebtedness of the said estate, which from the evidence, appears to be greater than the amount of said sale."

The property conveyed is what is known as the old Mesmer homestead at No. 125 South Broadway. It is an L-shaped tract consisting of three lots 165 feet deep, one of them having a frontage of $2 feet 7 inches on Broadway, and the other two a combined frontage of 125 feet 5 inches on Hill street.

The plans for the office and theater building are being drawn by a first-class architect, and the prospective theater has been leased to Harry Wyatt for a term of ten years. Work on the great structure is to be commenced as soon as all the preliminaries can be arranged. It will be situated directly opposite the new Chamber of Commerce building, which is also to be errected in the near future, and the two improvements will be of immense importance to the property and business interests of Upper Broadway.

POISONED WITH ALCOHOL.

Wild Escapade of a Young Hospital Patient on Temple Street Results in His Death. Charles Mahon, aged about 20, a patient at the Sisters' Hospital, under treatment for a fractured arm, wandered away from that institution last night and in some unknown manner secured a quantity of crude alcohol and whisky. As a result of drinking this he died at 2:35 o'clock this morning this he died at 2:35 o'clock this morning at the Receiving Hospital. He was found on Temple street near Fremont avenue wildly drunk by several citizens. He had fallen in the street and mashed his lips and nose in such a manner that he was soon covered with blood. The pain from his broken arm he did not seem to notice. The police were notified and before the ambulance arrived he became so wild that his feet had to be tied.

When he reached the Receiving Hospital he first said he was a railroad man, then claimed to be a cook, and then an elevator operator. He had to be tied to a cot, but soon the alcohol he had imbibed rendered him unconscious, and artificial respiration had to be resorted to to keep him alive. Several trusties worked on him for hours under the direction of the police surgeon.

At the best, the increase of gold production is largely a matter of conjecture. The indications, however, point rather to the verification of Prof. Shaler's prophecy than otherwise. In speaking of improved processes of extracting the precious metal, he referred only to present processes, taking no account of possible improvefacilities of men are never idle, and the improvement of the next two decades are likely to be even greater than those of the twenty years last past. LOS ANGELES THEATER. Rem-

LOS ANGELES THEATER. Reminiscences of the time when "Rip Van Winkle" without Joseph Jefferson was like Hamlet with the prince left out came back last evening when that picturesque drama was given its first presentation on the local boards with Thomas Jefferson, son of the famous "Rip," in the star cast.

In the hands of Thomas the father's interpretation of the character loses nothing of its charm. It is the same old, easy-going, good-natured, henpecked husband that walks and talks, and there is just enough of the son's personality in the creation to give it that charm of reality.

The story of the haunted cavern of the mysterious Kaatskills, and the twenty years' sleep of the famous "Rip," which smacks of the early Dutch colonists, has been told many limes, but it is as fascinating today as ever. In five acts last evening, all of which were beautifully staged, the story was told again. The first scene opens in the village of Falling Waters, then shifts to Rip's home, where his love for the children is as pathetic as his fear for his wife is judicrous. Thomas Jefferson is master in both situations. He wisely appreciates there is as much art in a smil as in a tear. In this act he is ably supported by Margaret Hayward as Gretchen, the wife.

In this act he margaret Hayward as Gretchen, the wife.

One of the best scenic creations is in the third act, which shows the deep, shadowy glades of the Kaatskills. There is the deep mountain glen, wild, lonely and shaggy, the bottom filled with fragments of broken cliffs. The light fades, and evening gradually advances. Rip stands musing, as the long blue shadows of the mountains deepen. The slence of the scene is real, and that the silence should be broken by a goblin seems hardly strange. One of the best bits of acting is Rip's awakening after his long sleep. In this Thomas Jefferson shows the real power he possesses as the son of his father.

Jefferson is supported by a strong cast, but as it is a star play, it would not suffer were the support less good.

California for Health.

California for Health.

The British Vice-Consul at Los Angeles describes in his last report the advantages of the routhern part of the State of California as a health resort. He says that there invalids can have any temperature they may desire, from the warm, dry air in the orange groves to several degrees of frost in the mountains. The atmosphere is highly electric and antiseptic, and is not suitable for nervous people. It is not too hot in summer nor too cold in winter. The dryness of the air is beneficial to consumptive patients. There are at least 300 bright, clear days there every year, and California is rapidly securing the tourist travel which formerly went to Florida. This is due to the fact that the season in Florida lasts but a few months, and in California for the whole year. Most of the tourists arrive in winter. The climate, however, is pleasanter in the summer and more beneficial at that season for consumptives.—[London (Eng.) Times.

A City Tree Festival.

A City Tree Festival.

A Philadelphia men suggests that trees planted in public squares and on streets should be of the nut-bearing variety. He believes that a sense of honor would be cultivated in boys, even in the worst neighborhood, if it were explained that the nuts belonged to them and that they would only damage their own property if they interfered with them before the proper time. Then, when the nuts were ripe, they would be taken from the trees under the direction of the city forestry department and a new festival day be inaugurated marking their distribution.—[New York Tribune.

MISS PIERCE'S BOXES.

Miss Helen M. Pierce stated yester-day that she has about completed arrangements for placing "ornamental waste-paper boxes" at the principal street corners of the city, in accordance with the privilege granted ner by the City Council. She will begin the experiment with about twenty of the receptacles, and if they are patronized sufficiently to warrant the outlay, the number will be increased. She says such boxes are in use in the principal cities of Europe and the East and greatly enhance a tidy appearance of the streets.

WAGON LOADS OF NICKELS. Colossal Daily Business of New York Street Railways-Other Interesting

Street Railways—Other Interesting Street-railway Facts.

[New York Correspondence Kansas City Star:] Once a day a curious scene is enacted at the various banks receiving the money of the New York street-car lines. So many nickels are deposited that the clerks do not try to count them. They weigh them, and pray for the early death of the man who invented them. Of course, worn and light coins run a few more to the ton that new ones from the mint, but the discrepancies average about the same all the way along, and little or nothing is lost by this method of counting nickels. Thus the nickels that come in by truck and wheelbarrow loads to the bank are kept moving until they reach the sub-treasury, to be recoined or again put into circulation.
Great is the power of the nickel.
Rain drops of nickels falling into the conductor's pocket, to be shoveled into the treasury of the street-car lines at the end of the route, have performed miracles besides making officials and stockholders rich. They have transformed New York, extended and múltiplied the lines, pushed the city into the suburbs, giving new streets and boulevards, rapid transit for miles beyond the prediction of the wildest dreamers of twenty years ago.

With thousands of conductors collecting fares, a shower of money falls into the company's receiving offices in different parts of town every day. This money is transferred each day by strongly-built treasure wagons to the banks convenient to the receiving offices. This transfer of cash requires three teams of horses to be changed during the day for each wagon. Trusted officials with a special guard armed to the teeth, accompany the wagon.
Conductors are required to keep their Conductors are required to keep their nickel supply reduced to the lowest point by working the coins off on passengers in making change. Result, if the conductor is expert, he will be able to turn in bills and sliver chiefly.

But in spite of all this warfare against the nickel, the thirty-one lines of the system yield nickels by the wagon load.

Each of the big lines of the system, such as the Columbus avenue, Amsterdam, Broadway, Lexington, Madison and Third avenue, ought to dearn from $6000 to $12,000 a day. The thirty-one lines earn, according to the published figures, a little more than $14,000,000 annually. For a single day the gross receipts, as published, are about $43,500.

To carry the passengers yielding all this more. 7000 cars are required.

Experiments on different lines have proved that well-lighted, handsome cars will almost double the receipts. An old car was repainted, uphoistered and brilliantly illuminated and run on one of the horse car lines between the ordinary old-fashioned cars.

This recalls the stories of a few years ago when the Philadelphia contractors who undertook to build a cable line where the horse cars had run so many years, really were blackmailed to the where the horse cars had run so man years, really were blackmailed to thimit. there will more than repay you for the trouble and expenditure. The finer the cars the more passengers will crowd them."

It might be added in parenthesis that the same logic holds true of all business. A famous down town theater lost so much business that it changed hands. The new manager spent several thousand dollars for paint and gold leaf, velvet and varnish, and literally covered the house and entrance with lamps of the strongest brilliancy. When the theater opened again its business was double what it ever had been, even in famous years gone by.

It may also be interesting to state that there is real joy on the faces of the street rallway management and satisfaction deep in their hearts. One of them declared: "Now we can do business on a business basis. Quotations have been going up ever since the election. We can now demand our rights under the law without being the street rallway means demand our rights under the law without being the control of the street rallway means the control of the street rallway means and the control of the street rallway means the control of the street rallway means and the control of th

The extraordinary motion in the nebula discovered by him November 10, and confirmed by Ritchie of the Yerkes observatory on the day following, continues unchanged for the two principal condensations. They have moved outward certainly more than half a minute of arc in the last three weeks. The third condensation has greatly changed its form, but nevertheless its motion outward appears to continue. The strong mass of the nebula nearest the star seems to remain unchanged both in position and appearance.

IBT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M. CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—"King Farmer" has come to Chicago; takes the Board of Trade by storm, and sent prices of all grains climbing above record prices. for a long time, and has rivaled the speculative enthusiasm that marked the days of Hutchinson and other giants of the pits.

Natural conditions are back of the upshoot in prices, but buil speculation has been the main incentive. The whole countryside seemed to be waking up to the ruinous shortage in the corn crop, and the feeding of wheat to stock as a consequence has brought about a buying in the cereal. The arrival of thousands of farmers and stockmen to visit the live stock exhibition touched off the fuse under all the markets, and off the fuse under all the markets, and sent prices booming. Today the floor of the board was a spectacular show, Hundreds of the big countrymen, in fur overcoats and cowhide boots, had the courtesies of the exchange, and were all eagerly "getting into the game." When the professional speculators saw the farmer grasping opportunities, they immediately began to plunge.

tunities, they immediately began to plunge.
May wheat touched its record price for the crop shortly before noon, seling at 89%. Both December and May corn broke records of years' standing, December selling at 65 and May at 68%. It is rumored there is a corner in oats, but trade is so large on both sides of the market that it is not certain. May oats broke another record today at 46%. At the high prices enormous amounts of grain came out in all pits, supposedly from leading buil operators. Prices rapidly dragged as a consequence, and though the markets were yet firm, the big advances for the day were in many cases lost.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

(BT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Congressman Edgar Weeks of Michigan, who arrived from Manila on the transport Hancock, when asked about conditions in the Philippines, said:
"I saw Aguinaldo, and spent half a day with him. He is not an intelligent man, and I think feels that he is inferior in intellect to the Americans. He seemed to me not clever, but cunning. The general opinion among the military men is that Aguinaldo should be allowed to escape. He is a dead issue, and is no longer a menace to the United States. It is supposed that he does not want to run away, as he would at once be assassinated by the friends of Gen. Luna, whom he ordered to be killed.
"The new method of educating the natives adopted by this government is wrong. Refined, handsome young ladies from Vassar, and other colleges, went down to the Philippines to educate these natives. They have had to put up with all kinds of privations, and to eat native food, and in some places their lives have been in danger. I think this is entirely unnecessary. In place of these young ladies, discharged soldiers of education, who had become acclimated, should be appointed, and the young ladies should be sent home.

"The question of the Sultan of Sulu and his harem is a very small matter when you are confronted with the great questions that are now involved. The Sultan lives in a dirty, tumbled-down house, and he may have several wives, but he is a very insignificant individual. I do not fear any trouble with him."

MANILA, Dec. 5.—[By Manila Cable.] Gen. Chaffee has issued orders for the closing of all ports in the Laguna and Batangas provinces. The quartermasters there will cease paying rents to the Filipinos for buildings used for military purposes, as it is known that a large proportion of the money finds its way to the insurgents in the shape of contributions, and Gen. Chaffee is determined that no more government funds shall find their way into the hands of the enemy. The reason for closing the ports is that too many supplies are found to be getting into the possession of the insurgents.

Gen. Chaffee intends giving Gen. Bell, commanding the troops in the Batangas province, every assistance he may require to subdue insurrection.

Gov. Taft is improving rapidly, and now expects to return to the United States on the government transport Grant, which will sail before Christmas.

Since Prince Henry returned to Het Loo the Queen and he have been dining together, and gradually resuming normal relations.

Yesterday they walked together, and afterward drove in the castle park. The relations between Prince Henry and the members of the court are, however, very strained. The former cordisility has been replaced by an attitude of frigid politeness on the part of the Prince Consort, and apparently the gentlemen of the Court are equally indisposed to gloss over recent occurrences.

No man can be strong when the stomach is "weak." The body, and every organ of it, depends upon the stomach for nutrition. This nutrition is supplied by food which must be properly digested before it can be assimilated. When the stomach and the other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the food esten is imperfectly digested, and there is a reduction of the nutrition necessary for the sustemance of the body. This loss of nutrition soon shows itself in general feebleness or in the "weakness" of one or more of the organs most affected. Thus it is that indigestion often results in disease of organs remote

ERNEST WADE'S DAMAGE SUIT.

EL PASO (Tex.) Dec. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An American, Ernest Wade, who has just been released from a Mexican jail, tells a story of four months of confinement, for many days of which he was without food, and was compelled to sweep the streets with others prisoners. He was arrested at the instigation of the Wells-Farge Extremely and the search of the same post of the press company, but no charge was made, and no complaint filed. He was finally released by the Mexican authorities. A leading firm of attorneys here has filed suit for 180,000 damages.

DEAD AND GAS ON. REST ALL MYSTERY.

HANDSOME YOUNG DAN V. HAYES CORPSE IN HIS ROOM.

Former Night Clerk at Hotel Broad way Inhales Fumes That Kill at Hote Menie and Sleeps His Last-Not Well,

Dan V. Hayes, a handsome young fellow who formerly acted as night clerk at the Hotel Broadway, was cierk at the Hotel Broadway, was found dead in a room at the Hotel Menlo on Main street yesterday morn-ing. He lay in bed in his night ciothes, and the gas jet from which the tip had been removed, was turned on full. All the reat is mystery.

and the gas jet from which the tip had been removed, was turned on full. All the rest is mystery.

Hayes was not known as a heavy drinker, and although only a little change was found about him, he was not in desperate straits for money by any means. He was not a well man, but was not discouraged about his state of health so far as his friends knew.

Hayes came from a good family in Boston. He was employed by Manager Lonergan of the Hotel Broadway about a year ago as a bell boy. He was advanced to the position of night clerk. When Lonergan retired from the mangement of the hotel. Hayes continued in the employ of the receiver, into whose hands the concern fell. He was then put in full charge of the house.

He continued working at the hotel until a few days ago. His friends since then have been making an effort to get him a position. Day before yesterday he received encouraging news of a job in a hotel at Santa Ana, and seemed confident of success.

Wednesday afternoon he called upon Mr. Lonergan. He was then in the best of spirits.

Lonergan said the boy thoroughly understood that he was welcome to come to him for money at any time. "I used to ask him nearly every time I saw him," said Lonergan, "if he had money enough, and he always said 'Yes.' He seemed very much pleased that we should take enough interest in him to try to get him another place." Sunday Hayes rented a room in the Menle Hotel at Winston and Main streets. No one in the house saw much of him, as he went out early and did not return until late.

Yesterday morning, when the chambermaid went around to make his bed, she could not set in the room. While she was doing her other work, one of the roomets complained to her of the odor of gas coming from Hayes's room. When the window of the room leading into the hall was opened, there was a rush of gas.

Hayes was found dead in bed. He had evidently been dead several hours. Among his effects were several beer checks. 30 cents, and a copy of "The Catholics' Vest Pocket Prayer Book," on the fiy leaf of which tre goes literature section met yea-terday morning for a study of Oliver Wendell Holmes. Mrs. Campbell read a brief sketch of the author's life, Mrs. Williamson Dunn, the section curator, read extracts from several articles on Holmes, and Mrs. C. W. Allen recited "Old Ironsides."

A large audience was in attendance at the session of the club on Wednesday morning, to hear the general programme which had been prepared for the occasion by the leaders of the day, Mrs. C. P. Dorland and Mrs. J. H.

Crawford, the subject being "Religious Art."

After the disposal of a little necessary business, the first number on the programme, a piano solo, "The Palms," was rendered by Miss Anita Burchill. Miss Ethelwyn Kennedy, who has recently returned from a two years' trip abroad, then gave a most delightful paper upon her personal experiences at Oberammergau, where she witnessed the famous Passion Play. Her description of the country and the quaint villages, now so world renowned, with its interesting people, which she said, "made it almost like dream-land to Americans," was given in a clear and simple style, which brought the whole scane vividly before her hearers. Details of tableaux and the several acts of the great drama were given, and the interest was much added to by the numerous photographs which were passed around in the audience during the reading of the paper. Then followed a song by a quartette of ladies. Mmes. Lee, Brett, Hayward and Pitkin, with Mrs. E. D. Park as accompanist. A reading, "The Burial of Manuello," by Miss Jennie O. Chambers, was much enjoyed.

The last number on the programme was a highly-entertaining and instructive talk upon Michael Angelo and his work by Miss Wadleigh. The latter, who is an enthusiast upon her subject, with which she is thoroughly familiar, sketched as rapidly as possible the career of the great painter. "His life," she said, "was anything but happy, owing to his sensitive disposition, and you could realize in his pictures the state of mind under which he was working." She spoke of his unwillingness to decorate the interior of the Sistine Chapel, which Julius II insisted upon his doing, and in which he succeeded so well that his famous frescoes will be known as long as history endures. CROWD EXPECTED BEFORE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

estants Strong Against the Blan Let Franchise Application of the Los Angeles-Pacific Electric Railway Com-pany—Immanuel Church Protests.

Protests against the many franchise pplications that have been filed with the City Council will be considered by the Board of Public Works this aftersion at 1:30 o'clock. At the same time to petitioners and their attorneys will be given opportunity to explain why skey wish to build street railroads over the proposed routes.

Quite a number of protests have allessed been filed with the City Clerk, and it is expected that several large integrations will present in person their histories to the blanket franchise application of the Los Angeles-Pacific flectric Railway Company. To accommodate the crowd it may be necessary to hold the session in the Council chamber.

Not for a long time has any peti-tion or application been productive of uch general and vigorous protests as hat filed last week by these railway sompanies. Property owners on seven treets have already presented their hijections in the form of written pro-lests, and it is said that many more are to follow.

they will vote when the matter comes to an issue.

It was intimated yesterday that final action on some of the applications may be taken at the board meeting today. Besides the blanket franchises asked by Besides the blanket franchises asked by the Huntington-Hellman syndicate, covering a large proportion of the streets of the city, the application of James C. Kays for a franchise from Lia Grande dapot, at Second and Santa Fé avenue, to the end of the Temple-street cable railway, at the junction of Verment avenue with the north city limits, through the Seventh, Third and Second wards, will be considered, as will be the application of Sydney J. Parsons for a franchise to begin at Third and Hill streets and run southeasterly through the Third, Seventh and Sixth wards to the junction of Compton avenue with the south boundary line of the city. As both of these last-named franchises run to the city limits, it is suspected that they are meant to connect with suburban lines, and that the country.

CHURCH PROTESTS.

Still another strong protest was filed with the Clerk yesterday by the Immanuel Presbyterian Church against the franchise asked on Tenth street, between Flower and Figueros. It is worded as follows:

"The undersigned residents and taxpayers of Los Angeles desire to emphatically protest against the granting of a franchise, recently applied for, to operate an electric railway on Tenth street, between Flower and Figueroa streets, and in line with this protest to call your attention to a few of the facts and reasons which make the granting of such a franchise extremely undesirable, and against the public good.

"On the corner of Tenth and Fig.

of the facts and reasons which make the granting of such a franchise extremely undesirable, and against the public good.

"On the corner of Tenth and Pigueroa streets is located the Immanuel Presbyterian Church, having over 1600 members, and in which it is therefore safe to say 2000 to 4000 people are directly interested. Religious services are held here every Sunday, morning and evening, and frequent meetings are held during the week.

"These meetings will be greatly disturbed, if not entirely ruined, by the awful noise of screeching cars turning the corner, and the clanging of street-car bells, made the more necessary because of the large number of rapidly-moving cars that traverse Figueroa street, the narrowness of Tenth street and the obstructed view. The tar from the curve, carried into the church on the feet of people, will be filthy and the congestion of people and cars on the circumscribed corner will be extremely dangerous. These, and other reasons not mentioned, prove conclusively to our minds that this valuable church property and the interests which it represents, and which are not of private character, but are maintained for the public good, will be greatly injured, if not ruined, for church purposes, if this railroad is built, for which there is no need. We therefore most urgently request that the petition be denied."

The protest bears the signatures of the following officers of the church: Board of trustees, W. C. Patterson, president; A. B. Cass, F. H. Messmore, James A. Montgomery, Z. D. Mathuss, W. A. Hartwell; deacons, G. D. Cadwalader, president; C. H. Hall, J. M. Rust, J. R. Boal, G. A. Davidson, Jr., W. H. Frost; elders, J. W. M. Pherron. Lyman Stewart, John Shirley Ward, W. W. Cockins, S. S. objections in the form of written protests, and it is said that many more are to follow.

There is an impression abroad that the Huntington-Heliman syndicate desires to get a monopoly of the streets of the city, as there is no present necessity for many of the lines for which a franchise is asked.

Among business men the Huntington forces are generally credited with long forces are generally credited wi

Hagan signed a consent to the transfer of the saloon to Armour & Rice, and the brewing company, it is said, supplied Hagan with money to nake a tender of the balance of his indebtedness to the Los Angeles Brewing Company, amounting to $1246.65, P. Max Kuehnrich, president of the Los Angeles Brewing Company, refused the tender, and immediately filed with the board the blank transfer, previously signed by Hagan, and asked that the license be transferred to himself. The money offered in tender was then placed in the First National Bank, and Kuehnrich was notified that it was there subject to his order.

Hagan claims that it was expressly agreed tht the balance of the purchase price might be paid at any time in cash. This does not appear in the copy of the agreement, and Kuehnrich asserts that it can only be paid by the purchase of beer at $10 a barrel. At that rate the Maier & Zobelein Company would be compelled to ourchase $6000 of Los Angeles Brewing Company heer in order to pay off the $1200 indebt.

Some time during the melee an at-tachment was put on the saloon by Kuehnrich, and all told the license is involved in a tangle almost as bad as that in which the Palace saloon was involved a year or so ago.

Fire Commission.

At the meeting of the Fire Commission this morning it is understood that the Chief will present a report relative to the application of the Imperial Refining and Asphalt Company for a boiler permit. There is much objection to the plant in the vicinity of the location at Elery and Shearer streets, in the Seventh Ward. The special Committee on Rules for the fire department is expected to report a revised set of regulations.

Delay in Bond Deal. Delay in Bond Deal.

As is often the case the unexpected happened yesterday, and City Treasurer Workman and City Attorney Mathews were obliged to delay their departure for New York to close the water-bond deal. A telegram received from Duluth. asking a slight change in the arrangements, was responsible for the change of plans. The Waldron suit had nothing to do with it, and it is not believed that it will cut any figure in the city's plans.

A meeting of the joint committee to devise a management for the water works was to be held last night, but owing to the illness of Chairman H. W. O'Melveney, who was confined to be house all day yesterday, the session was postponed until tomorrow night. President Powers's suggestion to use the $13,000 now in the old waterworks interest and sinking fund to build a suitable brick structure to house the water department and the department of health met with commendation on every side yesterday. Besides being a money-saving plan, it would make the payment of water rentals much more convenient, and at the same time provide the badly-needed increase in the accommodations at the City Hall, Parting Shot at California Bank Causes the Court to Hand Him Out a Mild Roast-Deputy McComas Says a Bad Word.

William T. Smith, the assayer whose acquittal on Wednesday of obtaining money under false pretenses, put him into ecstacles of joy, was afforded more ecstacles of the same sort yesterday morning when Deputy District-Attorney McComas moved to dismiss the two charges of embezslement pending against him. It will be remembered that his trial on one of the embesslement complaints resulted in a hung jury, and in view of this fact and of the recent verdict of not guilty, it seemed inadvisable both to the California Bank, which was the prosecuting witness, and to the District-Attorney, to pursue the prosecution any further. Judge Smith granted the motion and the defendant is a free man.

Judge Smith granted the motion and the defendant is a free man. The liberated assayer then took occasion to vent some spleen and the court administered a gentle "roast" "By the way," asked Judge Smith, after discharging his namesake, "is there any bail to exonerate." "No, Your Honor," responded Messrs. Davis & Rush, for the defense. "Bail!" sneered the assayer, "bail! I should say not! I could have gotten it all right, but the cashier of the bank stopped it," and the assayer was ankry in the remembrance of about eight months in the County Jail.

Attorney Davis made a ferce grab for his cilent to make him keep still. "There! there!" repited Judge Smith, sternly. "You are a very lucky man. Mr. Smith, and it comes in bad taste for you to make such a statement in this place against your enemier."
Then court adjourned and the squelched assayer made a farewell salute and depaid.
"Tes," chipped in Deputy McComas. as the liberated man was leaving, "he is d—d lucky."
Judge Smith would not allow the press to state that "them was his sentiments."
It is strenuously denied that the California Bank or its cashier, John G. Moesin ever made any effort to hoycott Smith when he tried to get bail. The charges against Smith involved over $2500.

PENNILESS WIFE.

SUES HUSBAND FOR SUPPORT. Turned out of doors pensiless, with a nine months old babe and another tiny child, is the burden of a complaint filed in the Superior Court yesterGay by Mrs. Emma Steele against her husband, William M. Steele, a second head dealer whom he is suited.

It is the culmination of a contract marriage.

On September 4, 1888, back in Windsor, Can., it is alleged that the Steeles agreed to live together—a common-law marriage—and in the following April they moved to Los Angeles, having lived here continuously during the past twelve years. In that time, says Mrs. Steele, she and her husband have accumulated property valued at $20,000. Four children have been born to them, and many times has Steele introduced their mother as his wife.

But on October 6 the Steele home was broken up.

At that time, says the destitute wife, she was bodily turned out of their home at the corner of Maple avenue and Twenty-eighth street, with a storm of blood-curdling epither. It was evident when the case was that was awful, to say nothing of that was awful, to say nothing of the law of the convict them both.

Keeping the two eldest boys, he turned the companion of all these years out into the world with the baby and a little girl to rustle for themselves. Now they are in indigent circumstances, and he, it is averred, has ordered them never to return home or speak to him again. In her complaint Mrs. Steele, besides asking for $100 monthly support, prays also for the custody of all her children. Hugh J. Crawford, Esq., is her attorney.

Misther Murphy Tells How He Came to Hit Him-Fred Rhodes Fined for "Calling Down' Saloonkeeper Frimmersderf.

Whether Misther Murphy was to blame for hitting Misther Ryan, the sailor, who carried the boycott banner of Jim Gray and nearly raised a riok or whether Mighter Ryan was leastly responsible for lathering Misther Mur-phy wid a bit of a stick was too much for the jurors. They heard the whole story in the Police Court yesterday and passed it up.

'Merican flag and stooping bullets, but I says to 'im, says I, 'You couldn't stop a bread wagon.''

When his lawyer with grave concern asked about the wounds he sustained. Murphy, to the lawyer's evident chagrin, waved him airly away. He said they were just a few scratches.

"I think you are a little too modest," protested Lawyer Oliver. Murphy tried to defend himself, but the lawyer grabbed him by the hair and turned the marks of a wound to the jury. "You were taken to the hospital," said the lawyer.

"Oh, yis," said Murphy, 'but whan a felier's head begins to bleed he reaches up and thinks the howl topof his head has come off."

One of the witnesses told the court that Murphy had with martyr-like submissiveness, stood there and taken the beating Ryan gave him with the end of a stick and never even releed his hands from his sidea.

"To say that a man named Pat Murphy with a noggin of Main-street liquor on board stood by while a fight was going on and never raised, his hands, is a disgraceful libel on Treland," said Mr. Harris to the jury with a noginal thoughts about labor unions and capital, which latter, it seems, is a mere aggregation of cusedness, and Harris showed the jury beyond the possibility of a doubt how Ryan is innocent, and Oliver, in his turn, showed how it is Murphy, not Ryan, who is perfectly innocent, and the pury beyond the possibility of a doubt how Ryan is innocent, and Oliver, in his turn, showed how it is Murphy, not Ryan, who is perfectly innocent, and on show that jury yet.

Pleasant Afternoon.

The Robert E. Lee Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met yesterday afternoon with Mrs.

W. A. Phelps, No. 1314 South Grand way, offer an unusua advenue. During the early part of the session arrangements were made to celebrate Robert E. Lee's birthday anniversary, which occurs on January 19. At that time a delightful entertainment will be given. An hour was spent socially, during which time elaborate refreshments were served. The rooms were artistically decorated with carnations and roses, the Confederacy carnations and roses, the Confederate colors, red and white, being carried out in the arrangement. The chapter will call a meeting at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. Gosewisch, No. 837 Beacon street, at which time important matters will be discussed.

St. John's Bazaar.

St. John's Bazsar.

St. John's bazsar, which was auspiciously ushered in last Tuesday among the society events of the week, closed yesterday evening, at 10 o'clock, having had a most successful season. Much credit is reflected upon Mrs. O. P. Posey for the many handsome things donated to the fair, and on Mrs. T. L. Winder, who had charge of the dining-room throughout the two days. The proceeds of the sales swelled the fund of the guild considerably, and those interested are greatly pleased with the results.

Philolethea Club.

A pleasant entertainment was accorded the members of the Philolethea Club on Monday evening, at the home of Harry Cronkhite on West Thirtieth street. Music and stories furnished the amusement, which were followed by a jolly trolley ride. A business meeting was held in the early part of the evening, at which Clyde Johnson was made a member. The club has a sort of holiday surprise to offer its friends in the shape of a matine dance, to be given at Kramer's on Christmas afternoon. This custom, which is so popular in the East, will doubtless be received here with great enthusiasm. The club's regular dance for this month will be held on next Friday evening.

Increased domestic prosperity does not induce lower-priced labor in the world. Increased domestic prosperity does not induce lower-priced labor in our best fields, and we do not need home peonage so long as the present policy prevails toward our home sugar products. As long as times remain good the public will show no disposition to leave the beet farmer in the lurch, especially when the main office of the beet-sugar producers at present seems to be to hold down the sugar trust. The impression seems to be extant that it is preferable to have a tariff of 100 per cent. upon Cuban sugar, rather than to give the Have-meyer consolidation the opportunity of charging several hundred per cent, more for free Cuban sugar with the beet industry out of the fight.

strippings or last of the milking, Hood Farm Topics says:
"Numerous explanations have been given to the reason why strippings, or that portion of the milk which is last drawn from the udder is the richest in butter fat. One of the most generally-accepted explanations is that the butter fat, being of such low specific gravity compared with the watery portion of the milk in which it floats, has, a tendency to rise to the upper portion of the udder, just as it does when the milk is set for cream raising. When the tit will be the last to come away in the operation of milking.
"That there is a marked difference in the quality of milk first drawn from the cow, compared with that which comes away toward the finish, was clearly shown by an experiment carried out some time ago by a well-known dairy expert. He found that, while the average percentage of butter fat in the first pint of milk withdrawn from the cow worked out to only 1.32 per cent., the butter fat in the strippings, or the last half pint, amounted to over 9 per cent. Cost of Raising Steers.

The Utah Experiment Station has made some experiments with a view to ascertaining the cost of raising steers from birth. They were conducted with four grade Jerseys. At first they were given only whole milk alone, but later skim milk and grain. During the summer the calves were pastured, while in the winter aifafa, corn stover, grain and roots composed their ration. At the beginning of the test calves Nos. 1 and 2 each weighed 58 pounds, gaining 1.35 and 1.12 pounds per day, respectively. Calf No. 3 weighed 94 pounds at the beginning of the test, and gained an average of 1.39 pounds per day, while 76 pounds was the weight of No. 4 a birth, which gained 1.15 pounds on an average per day. Calf No. 1 gave a profit of $12.78. No. 2 gave a profi 1.15 pounds on an average per day. Calf No. 1 gave a profit of $12.78; No. 2, $8.59; No. 3, $9.38, and No. 4, $6.52. The total cost of raising the calves was $65.32.

These steers, it will be remembered, were grade Jerseys, thus accounting for their light weights. Grades of any good beef breed would no doubt have given much better returns, but this experiment was intended to show what may be done with grade Jersey steers by those who seek to improve their dairy herds by the use of a Jersey bull. The quality of the meat was excellent, the very best sold at the local markets during the year.—(Tennessee

Second Place.

The report of the Michigan State Labor Commission, as summarized by the Country Gentleman, says that "Michigan now stands second as a beet-sugar producing State, and is rapidly forging to the front. Thirteen plants, with capitalized stock of $4,400,000, equipped at cost of $5,525,000, will operate the present season, and six others will be completed next season, at a cost of $55,000,000 each. This will make over $8,000,000 invested | sugar plants. The thirteen factories will have an average daily capacity of 6650 tons of beets: the six new factories will have capacity of 3600 tons, bringing total capacity of 10,850 tons daily. The thirteen factories will average ninety days in operation and require 598,500 tons of beets: ugar yield on last year's basis—over 14 per cent.—will be 167,580,000 pounds, or $3,790 tons, but experienced manufacturers look for over 200,000,000 pounds. A large part of the machinery used is of American manufacture, opening up new avenues for home capital and labor. The limestone used in purifying averages 2100 tons for each large factory, and comes largely from Alpena. About $5,000 tons of bituminous coal from Michigan mines will also be used. The beet acreage will be 65,000, farmers receiving $5 per ton, average, Operating force in factories, 2400: labor in thinning, weeding and pulling beets amounts to a large sum. The Labor Commissioner strongly believes that Congress should not reduce the tariff on sugar, as protection of the in-adustry is vital to the interests of Michi. The report of the Michigan State

THE FARM.

Farmers Combine. Apropos of the present attempt to organize the grain growers of this State for cobperative marketing, the Portland Oregonian prints, under the caption "Can Farmers Combine" the following account of the way in which some farmers did combine in what we used to call "the down-trodden State of Kansas:"

Fifty farmers near the town of Solo-mon, in Central Kansas, embracing men of all political parties, last sum-mer formed a cooperative grain-buying company. Their number included 90 per cent. of the wheat raisers of that mer formed a coöperative grain-buying company. Their number included 30 per cent. of the wheat raisers of that section, some producing as funch as $20,000 bushels and most of them having at least 5000 bushels as the season's yield. Their investigations showed that the local buyers were paying 14 cents a bushel less than the Kansas City market, while 8 cents' margin would meet the expenses. Their company had but $2500 capital: each member had but one vote; the officers elected included a banker, a former member of the Legislature, and, as manager, a practical grain buyer and miller. They bought a small elevator, instructed the manager to pay within 8 cents of the market, this margin meeting the transportation charges, and began business. As was to be expected, the rival buyers sought to take away the business by paying more than the farmers' company, and did so for several weeks.

Here was where the farmers met the situation. Under their agreement, whenever more was paid elsewhere, the members were instructed to sell in that market, but for every bushel thus sold 1 cent was paid to the cooperative company. As a result the farmers' elevator stood still, but the treasury was kept full and the members gained 6 to 7 cents a bushel on their wheat. One day a railroad block-aded their shipments to another road. The cars were soon moved, and since then plenty of transportation has been furnished. As the rival buyers ceased high figures the elevator began business, and during the summer and early full has purchased 80 per cent. of the wheat marketed at that point. The profits have been enough to pay dividends amounting to about 50 per cent, on the original investment of the members. The Hessian Fly.

the demands of the market.—[San Late-sown wheat may probably evade Francisco Chron'cle.

Late-sown wheat may probably evade the Hessian fly, but may be destroyed by weather conditions during the winter. Early-sown wheat is full of the fly. The acreage sown is less than that of former years. If many cases rye was sown instead. In one way this would indicate a short crop, yet it is common opinion that what is sown was put on better land, more carefully prepared, so that the total yield for the State will not be materially decreased. The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed by farmers in October at the flouring mills is 215,935, and at the elevators 188,420, or a total of 402,255 bushels. Of this whole amount, 232,266 bushels were marketed in the southern four tiers of counties, 156,311 bushels in the central counties, and 13,784 bushels in the northern counties. The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in the three months, August-October, is 1,-224,481, which is 182,940 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year. At thirty-four mills and elevators from which reports have been received, there was no wheat marketed in October. The total amount of wheat shipped by railroads from the various stations, as reported for September is 18,142 bushels.—[Exchange.

the various stations, as reported for September is 158,142 bushels.—[Exchange.

The wheat crop of this State is now estimated by the dealers in this city at 550,000 tons of 2000 pounds. At the present average price of $1 per cental, or $0 cents per bushel, at tide water. Its estimated value would be $19,000,000. The estimated crop of barley is 500,000 short tons, as against 426,000 tons in 1900. At the present average price of 75 cents per cental, its value would be $7,500,000 at tide water. From these prices, farmers must deduct cost of delivering to tide water to estimate the farm value of their crop. While the foregoing are about fair averages of present prices, there is, of course, quite a range in the prices of different qualities. Barley ranges in price from 70 cents for a fair quality of feed to $2\frac{1}{2}$ cents for good brewing, while wheat ranges, at this writing from 97\frac{1}{2}$ cents for shipping to $1.05 for best milling. Considering the difference in yield, brewing barley is the best grain crop for our farmers to raise.—(Chronicle.

The new crop of limss is now being shipped. The earliest shipments sthis year were from Saticoy and Oxnard, the bulk going to the Atlantic seaboard. Large shipments have also been made to Missouri River points. Texas, too, has always been a heavy consumer of beens and some large orders from that State are being fille. Is soon as the immediate demand has been supplied the remaining portion of the crop will be stored for future demands.

The other principal bean-growing districts of California are found on the bottom lands of the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers. The bean crops around Santa Ana this year amounted to about 15,000 sacks. The crop estimate of small white beans for 1901 is from 125,000 to 130,000 bags as compared with from 50,000 to 60,000 bags in 1900; of Lady Washington beans 500,000 to 550,000 bags in 1900.

The short crop of beans in California last year is attributable to a deficiency in the seasonal rainfall and to a remarkable absence of fog during the growing season.—[California Fruit Grower.

Chicken Fatting as a Business. a business of fatting chicks for the market. These chicks are bought of farmers when weighing three to four pounds, and then prepared for market. Prof. Roberts, Commissioner of Agri-culture for Canada, thus describes a visit to a chicken fattener in Sussex, Eng.: He began life as a farm laborer and is now doing a prosperous busi-ness. I would not like to say how much the fatting business brought him in, but I should not be surprised to learn that his annual net income was about $5000.

that his annual net income was about $5000.

He has on an average 4800 chicks fatting at his place. In approaching the house I went down a lane, lined on both sides with coops, in which there were chicks. Other coops were placed about the place. The special buildings required for this purpose are very cheap affairs and not at all large. Two-thirds of the fatting is done in the open air. He rears only a small portion of the chicks which he fats, and has a man who goes around on certain routes every two weeks, collecting routes from farmers, who raise them to about three and a half pounds live weight.

The coops in which the chicks are put for fattening are about 6½ feet long. 16 inches wide and 16 inches high inside. Each coop is divided into three compartments and in each one of these is put five chicks. The coops are made of sticks or rods with a silding door in front of each compartment.

The chicks are fed about three weeks.

The chicks are fed about three weeks, but sometimes longer or less, according to the activity or duliness of the market. They are fed on oats ground very fine, the hulls being pulverised until they are almost like dust. This is mixed with skim-milk, either sweet or sour, but preferably sour, to a constituency of thin porridge, so that it will drop but not run off the end of the spoon. It is usually fed raw in a V-shoped wooden trough placed in front of each coop. The chicks are fed a small amount of this three times a day at first. They are kept hungry for the first week and after this are fed twice a day as much as they will eat. During the last ten days a small quantity of tailow is added to the mixture. This is melted and mixed with a small portion of meal, when it will mix readily with the bulk of the feed. A pound of tailow to seventy chicks is given at the beginning of the ten days' feeding and gradually increased to one pound to fifty chicks toward the end. artment.
The chicks are fed about three weeks.

A correspondent writes from an eastern city to The Times as follows:
[To the Editor of The Times:] Two

istry class at a medical university where I was a student, the professor, while analysing an egg, stated that the reason hens did not lay as many eggs in winter as in summer was that in winter they could not get the necessary food to produce the yolk of eggs, and if farmers would feed their fowls powdered red albumen in the winter they could have as many eggs as in summer. I was interested in the subject, as my father and brothers are farmers; so after the lecture I asked the professor in what quantities and how the albumen should be fed. He said to take a pound of powdered red albumen and mix it with one pound of black or red pepper, ground fine. Then every morning mix some ground feed, half wheat bran and half corn meal, and to each quart of this mixed food add two teaspoonfuls of the mixed pepper and albumen, then add enough hot water to dampen the feed, but not to make it sticky. Give a quart of this hot feed to each twelve hens every morning, and a quart of whole grain, wheat or corn, or both mixed, for each twelve fowls every evening, and in two weeks your hens will begin to lay, and lay all winter if you give them this feed. The professor said he had kept a pen of game fowls for fifteen years; he always fed them this feed, and always had an abundance of eggs. I wrote to my father and brothers, giving them this recipe, and they and several neighbors tried it last winter with complete success; the coldest weather did not stop their hens laying. My father keeps about one hundred light Brahmas. Winter before last they did not lay at all, but on this feed last winter they averaged about seven dozen eggs a day all winter. One thing the Brahmas used to do to a finish, that was to set, but last spring father could not get a hen' to set until he quit feeding this feed.

My brother bought 250 young hens last September, and I got a letter from him today saying that he began glving this feed two weeks ago, and is now getting over two hundred eggs a day. I have a great many friends back home that read your paper, and for w cents worth or feed is surely a big profit. Truly yours,

J. Q. M'NAUGHTON,

[Poultry-raisers who may try this plan of feeding for egg-production are invited to report their experiences to The Times.—Ed.]

THE DAIRY.

Doctoring Butter.

The question of "renovated butter" s even more difficult to deal with than that of oleomargarine. Renovated but-ter is butter which has gone wrong and been reformed. It is unquestionably but-ter, and its sale as such cannot be prevented. It has no butter flavor, and does not if any way appeal to the pal-ate, but it is grease, and no more dele-terious to health than any other grease. It is doubtless more digestible than fried pork fat, of which great quanti-ties are consumed. Prof. W. J. Splil-man of the Washington Agricultural College discusses this subject in the New York Produce Review in the fol-lowing manner:

"In the first place, most of the butter from which renovated butter is made, is sold by the farmers at from 8 to 10 cents a positive disadvantage to farmers to have a market at such prices. They would make more money by allowing the calves to have the milk, and still more by selling the cream to a first-class creamery, and there is hardly a farmer in the State of Washington but is situated so as to eable to do one of these things. Therefore the trade in renovated butter does not benefit the producer of dairy products. It is admitted, however, that when renovated butter is pure and is sold on its merits, it furnishes a cheap and valuable food for poor people in the cities. The difficulty comes in enforcing the laws on this subject. We have a most excellent law and have a dairy commissioner who is absolutely fearless in enforcing the laws. He has confiscated shipment after shipment of renovated butter sent to this State in response to orders for creamery butter, and not branded according to law, and yet these shipments continue. Occasionally a dealer with more greed than sense attempts to baim off renovated butter by selling it a few cents below the price of creamery butter, and not infrequently markets have been demoralised in our State by just such actions. We have come to regard renovated butter at its best as a menace to the dairy industry: and I believe that our experience justifies this. As ving manner:
In the first place, most of the butfrom which renovated butter in vated butter at its best as a menace to the dairy industry, and I believe that our experience justifies this. As above stated, we do not object to the legitimate sale of the product. What we want is national legislation that will secure us against the fraudulent sale of such articles. In a State like our own, where the consuming masses are scattered over a very wide expanse of country in mining and logging camps and the like, it is a very difficult matter to prevent the introduction from outside sources of dairy products not what they purport to be, and we believe that proper national legislation would greatly aid us in this matter.—[Chronice.

The following suggestions for operating the Babcock test are sent out by Dr. J. B. Lindsey and E. B. Holland of the Hatch Experiment Station. They should be followed carefully to secure accurate results: Milk or cream should be secured to the carefully and the careful and the car should be followed carefully to secure accurate results: Milk or cream should be carefully and thoroughly mixed—never by shaking the sample, but by gently rotating it and by pouring from one vessel into another. All cream adhering to the sides and stopper of the remaining vessel must be incorporated, and the resulting mixture should have no solid particles of fat. A small fine wire sieve is of great value in detecting the imperfect (lumpy) condition of a sample, and in preparing the same for pipetting.

"Pipett immediately after preparing the sample, filling the pipette slowly, and taking care to avoid air bubbles. Hold the pipette in a vertical position when lowering the liquid to the mark, and always read with the entire moniscus above the line. In transferring milk or cream to the test bottles, avoid as far as possible the smearing of the entire neck with the liquids. Cream testing above 25 per cent. of fat should always be weighed, as accurate results cannot be secured with the pipette.

"In adding the acid turn the bottle so as to work down all milk or cream adhering to the sides of the neck and mix at once. Rotate the bottle until all the lumps of casein are thoroughly dissolved and the resulting mixture is black in color. Never slight the mixing and avoid throwing the fat up into the neck.

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 5.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] Articles of incorporation of the Kern Power Company have been filed. This is the enterprise which proposes to make use of the flowing waters of Kern River to generate energy and conduct it to Los Angeles for the purpose, it is supposed, of supplying the Huntington street-car lines with power. The stock is all subscribed and the names attached to the document include H. E. Huntington, I. W. Hellman, W. G. Kerckhoff, A. C. Balch and H. W. O'Melveny. Work is to be begun early in the coming year on the flume and tunnels necessary to lift the water to give it the necessary to lift the water to give it the necessary fall at the power-house. The location of the works will be about thirty miles above Bakersfield, and from that point the transmission line will run in as direct a route as possible to Los Angeles, there being no intention to deliver power at any place except that city.

BOILER MAKERS STRIKE.

Fourteen boiler makers and one apprentice in the employ of the Soutnern Pacific Company at Kern City, are out on strike because of the recent discharge of a boiler maker named Oscar Anderson. The discharged man was employed on November 28, and after working eight days, it is said, it was found that he was not as represented, a first-class workman. The foreman discharged him and reported this fact to Master Mechanic French, who was in Santa Barbara at the time. Mr. French refused the request of the boiler makers to reinstate Anderson over the foreman's head, and the strike was on.

In an attempt to prevent trouble, Anderson was offered employment by the company at Sacramento, but this was not acceptable.

There is much work on hand in the Kern shops, but nothing will be done until the trouble has been straightened out.

SHORT CUT TO OIL FIELDS. The movement of Kern City business men for the construction of a bridge across the river to complete a proposed short route to the oil fields, has met with success, the Supervisors having today agreed to the appropriation of the necessary money. By this improvement, the distance to the fields will be reduced about three miles.

UNLUCKY TRAMPS.

The Southern Pacific office at Kern City has been advised that James McCaller of Oakland, while attempting to beat his way to his home from this city, fell from the top of a passenger coach on the "Owl" last night, near Tulare, and sustained a fracture of the leg and other injuries which may prove fatal. When the Owl reached Goshen, another man whose name has not been ascertained, fell from the same coach and sustained serious injuries. BACON HEARD FROM.

ENVELOPED IN FOG. This city this morning was enveloin a dense fog, and it was hoped the much-needed rainfall would follow the much-needed rainfall would follow, but a few hours later all was clear and bright, and the chances for a storm are not favorable. The farming community is dry-plowing and will sow grain as soon as possible. A late season is generally looked for.

The Kern City lodge of Knights of Pythias has established a uniform rank of fifty members.

TRUETT'S LAST JOURNEY.

In accordance with the wishes of relatives of the late Fred K. Truett, his body was shipped to San Francisco yesterday evening for burial. Winfield C. Hogaboom, who was for several years Mr. Truett's assistant as local manager of the Associated Press, accompanied the remains to their destination, and will remain in San Francisco until after the burial, which will take place this afternoon or Saturday. Owing to the short time allowed for preparing the body for shipment, no funeral services were held in this city. Many friends of the deceased were thus prevented from paying their last tribute of respect. A few of the intimate friends of the dead man escorted the casket containing the remains from Peck & Chase's undertaking rooms to the Arcade Depot, where it was placed aboard the "Owl" train for the journey to the native city and last resting place of Fred K. Little Money—Jimmy Man.

A burgiar equipped either with a wide chisel or a Jimmy entered two houses in the West'ske district Wednesday night, and though he must have worked for hours, he found little. At the residence of C. N. Sterry, Esq., No. 2607 Wilshire Bouvelard, the thief tried to force nearly all the windows on the west side, as the marks show. The windows were fastened with safety clutches. He found the entrance to the cellar open and by this means entered the house. He went in several rooms and might have stolen many valuable articles, but was protably looking for money only, and took nothing eise. He got a purse containing 20 cents. The purse he tore to pieces in the yard.

The other house entered is that of J. S. Book, No. $24 Rampart street. There a window was forced and nearly every room entered. He took Book's son's clothing into the yard and from the pockets secured $4.50.

At about 2 p.m. Mr. Zilligitt was called to the store by a citizen who wanted to summon a physician in an emergency case, Mr. Zilligitt at that time noticed nothing wrong, but when he opened the store at the usual hour in the morning he found that the place had been entered by breaking a window, that a hole had been bored in the safe. The hole was ready to receive an explosive cap, but the burglar had evidently been frightened away before he had accomplished his design.

Orange County Exhibit in Los Angele to Be Investigated-Two Viciou gsters Arrested-Slot Machine Must Go-McNaught-Damron.

SANTA ANA, Dec. 5.—(From The Times' Resident Correspondent.) The jury in the case of the People vs. B. M. Green, charged with violating the new Green, charged with violating the new county liquor ordinance, failed to agree and they were discharged about 10 o'clock last night. Green was an employe of Chauncy B. Hugans of Fullerton, in which town the offense was alleged to have been committed. The evidence adduced by the prosecution showed that beer sold by Green had been drunk upon the premises, but the defense testified that it was root beer and that the defendant was not a regular employe of the place; that he had been requested by the manager to remain at the bottling works while the former went out for his supper, and that as a matter of fact he did not know the contents of the refrigerator from which the liquid was taken. The taking of evidence in this case occupied but little more than half a day, while more than three days were consumed in securing the jury. It is said the jury

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 5.—[From The Times' Correspondent.] The Santa Fe paint shop was entered Tuesday night by thleves, who made away with brushes and tinfoil valued at about 135. Entrance was effected by prying open one of the windows, after which the locker was broken open. Officer Reeves met two men, who are believed to have committed the theft, about 10 o'clock Tuesday night. They were apparently searching for something in a dark spot. The officer asked them what they were looking for. They replied they hadn't lost anything, and walked away. The officer then commenced a search, and found a big roll of painters' foil. While examining it in left the foil in the dark spot for safe keeping, whereupon the officer handed over the foil, and the strangers made their final exit.

BACK-ACTION ATTACHMENT.

Nicholas Vader of Victor came to town yesterday to commence proceedings in an attachment suit against a Chicago man named Drew. Some time ago Vader sold a mill to Drew, and a dispute arose over the final settlement, although most of the purchase price had been paid. As soon as Vader had filed his claim for $375, to have the mill attached, the claim, to his surprise, was paid by J. C. Turner, acting for Drew, and the attachment released. A few minutes later, after the money had been deposited in a bank, another attachment was sued out, this time by Turner, who claimed $206 to be due him from Vader, and the bank officials were served with an order claiming that amount of the money left on deposit by Vader.

Railroad Unable to Deliver Product o Wells as Fast as Needed-Oil May B. Used on Santa Barbara County Roads.

SANTA MARIA, Dec. 5.-[From The SANTA MARIA, Dec. 5.—(From The Times' Resident Correspondent.) The Union Sugar Company is experiencing great difficulty in obtaining fuel to finish the season's run, and, in consequence, has been obliged to shut down altogether for an indefinite period. The company expected to finish up the season today, and would have succeeded had it not been forced to run on half time on account of the scarcity of oil. The delay has caused enough beets to accumulate in the sheds to of this unfortunate delay is due to the inability of the railroad to baul the product of the Western Union oil field to the factory. The factory uses about 250 barrels a day, while the railroad only delivers 100 barrels. At the beginning of the season, last September, the factory officials made no provisions to have coal on hand when the furnaces were changed to consume oil, consequently they are practically helpnaces were changed to consume oil, consequently they are practically helpless. The construction of a pipe line from the Western Union oil field to the factory is now being discussed, but unless the present output increases considerably more than is being pumped at present the plan will not be considered feasible. The distance is about ten miles, and as the intervening territory is comparatively level it would not require much engineering.

After giving the actual quantities of cloves brought into the town of Zanzibar from the agricultural districts of Zanzibar from the six december of 1990 was the smallest recorded during the last december of the fact that the quantities gathered in the island of Pemba did not fall very much below the average. Various theories have been propounded, the report says, to account for the great difference between the results obtained last year and in the year which immediately preceded it, the most generally-accepted being that the poorness of last year's yield was due to the heavy rainfall and floods which occurred in 1898. It has also been suggested that the clove crop is dependent on the abundance of the rainfall two years before, the more plentiful the rain the more prolific the crop: but it is unprofitable to attempt to ga afternoon against a picked eleven from all other classes.

LIBRARY IMPROVEMENTS.

The library trustees at their last meeting decided, commencing with the new year, to open the library as a free public library to all residents of the city. The trustees have long desired this, but have been hampered by lack of funds. This year, however, an increased appropriation from the city makes the contemplated change possible. Residents outside of the city may take out books at a nominal charge. The age limit at which children may commence to obtain books will be placed at ten years. Miss Mabel E. Prentiss, who has been assistant librarian at Pasadena, having gone there from the Los Angeles Public Library, and who has lately been specially engaged here in reclassifying the books of the library, with Miss M. L. Topliff and Mrs. L. P. Minler as assistants, has now been elected acting librarian of the Fomona Library. In being placed at the head of this institution it was necessary for Miss Prentiss to tender her resignation to the Pasadena library board of trugtees. Numerous changes and improvements in the arrangement of the local library rooms are planned, and the board has therefore decided to close the rooms from December 25 to January 1, after which the free library plan will be operative. Twenty-stamp Mill to Be Installed-

Mine to Be Opened.

Frank Ewing of Yuma, Ariz., was taken definite form within the last few days. A company composed of well-known to the state, Mrs. W. A. Thompson, the first of the week.

Mrs. Frank Vance of Los Angeles business men has been organized for the development of the Gold Stone group of mining claims in the Providence Mountains, in the northeastern part of San Bernardino county.

Providence Gold and Copper Company, capitalized at $3,000,000. Only a small part of the capital stock has yet been part of the capital stock has yet been subscribed, but enough has been paid up to begin the erection of a twenty-stamp mill, and operations on a scale which are expected to create a demand for the treasury stock when it is placed on the market. The directors of the company are: P. H. Mathews, presi-dent; W. E. Baxter, vice-president and treasure: C. Medint-Wood, F. H.

company are: P. H. Mathews, president: W. E. Baxter, vice-president and treasurer: C. Modini-Wood, F. H. Messmore and James H. Dewey. The company has opened offices at rooms Nos. 615 and 617 Laughlin building.

The Gold Stone property consists of a group of eleven mining claims on the northwest slope of the Providence Mountains, in a district that has long since been proven to be rich in minerals, but which, owing to the comparably inaccessibility of the region, has not been developed to any great extent, except in a few isolated spots. The old Bonanza King, the Columbia and a few smaller mines have been worked sufficiently to demonstrate the quantity, quality and variety of the ores which permeate the range, and to give hope of the development of a rich field of wide extent. The old Bonanza King diggings were the scene of a very lively mining camp some years ago. A great deal of buillion was shipped from this point before depression in the mining industry and iltigation over claims forced a shut-down, but activity in the region has latterly been resumed, with a prospect of continuing indefinitely, especially if the Salt Lake road is pushed to early completion.

The point selected by the Providence Gold and Copper Company for its proposed mill is only a few miles from the line surveyed for the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Raliroad, and the Oregon Short Line must alo necessarily pass close by if extended to Southern California. The nearest raliway station at present is Fenner, on the Santa Fé, about twenty-five miles to the southeast. From Los Angeles the distance is about 250 miles in a northeasterly direction by rail and wagon trail.

the distance is about 250 miles in a northeasterly direction by rail and wagon trail.

The Gold Stone claims were until recently owned, or controlled by option, by George L. Berg, a member of the Los Angeles police department, who disposed of them to the present owners. Berg has had considerable mining experience, and has prospected the region thoroughly, besides doing the necessary development work to hold the claims during a period of years. Owing to his familiarity with the country, the company has retained his services to superintend the preliminary work in opening up the mines and preparing the ground for the erection of a mili of twenty stamps, for the operation of which, it is said, plenty of ore of a good grade is already in sight. Officer Berg has obtained a leave of absence from his duties on the police force for forty-five days, during which time he expects to get the work of establishing the new mining camp well under way. He sent several men out to the mountains last Tuesday, and last evening started himself, with several others, to begin operations.

In the development work necessary to hold the claims, Berg superintended the sinking of an aggregate of 500 feet of shafts, the deepest of which is 85 feet. Two tons of average ore brought to Los Angeles and milled by Wade & Wade showed a value of $12.55 and Francisco netted $175, according to the reports made to the purchasers of the property.

The Sonora Milling and Mining Company is opening a property in the Altar mining district of Sonora, and arrangements are nearly completed for the building of a fifty-ton Vulcan smetter. Four hundred thousand tons of ore are said to be exposed, and a smelting plant should soon place the property among the producers of that district.

O'Keefe was formerly identified with the management of W. C. Greene's famous Cananea proposition. E. B. Gage, the Arizona mining operator, is heavily interested with O'Keefe in the Sonora properties.
